City of La Mesa Invites Residents to Complete Survey for Future Park

La Mesa, CA – Earlier this month, the City of La Mesa hosted an interactive virtual workshop for a future park on the site of the former Lemon Grove Road Station, a 2.84 acre parcel at the northwest corner of Waite Drive and Murray Hill Road.

The City of La Mesa Parks Master Plan identified this location as a valuable option for a future park. Now, the City invites residents to complete an important community survey.

“Thank you to our residents who participated in the interactive virtual workshop and shared valuable feedback,” said Sue Richardson, Director of La Mesa’s Community Services Department. “We are inviting our residents to share more input to help us prioritize amenities and the park’s character.”

As a community engagement tool, the City continues outreach efforts to ensure residents provide input to help shape the future park at Waite Drive. The City encourages community members to take 30-minutes or more and watch the presentation and proceed to take the survey.
